

Broadview Ventures Announces Promotion of Benjamin Kreitman to Associate Director

Boston, Massachusetts, September 23, 2026 – Broadview Ventures, a mission-driven investment organization dedicated to accelerating the development of promising technology for the diagnosis and treatment of cardiovascular disease and stroke, today announces the promotion of Benjamin Kreitman to Associate Director. In this role, Benjamin will continue to focus on new investment activity and portfolio management and will additionally support the development and implementation of the biopharmaceutical practice's strategy and operations.

Since joining Broadview as an Associate in 2017, Benjamin has sourced, evaluated, and closed several key therapeutics and medical device investments, and has partnered closely with existing portfolio companies to help guide their operational and corporate development. Benjamin is a board member of HAYA Therapeutics and AtaCor Medical, and a board observer for IsomAb Bio, Cardiosense, Aeromics, and Ischemia Care. In the Associate Director role, Benjamin will expand his responsibility in sourcing new opportunities, leading scientific, clinical, and corporate due diligence efforts, structuring transactions, and managing portfolio company investments. He will also contribute to Broadview's portfolio strategy and execution of its investment operations.

Broadview is committed to the career progression and recognition of its investment team members. Over the last nine years, Benjamin has demonstrated the ability to identify high-potential founders, execute investment due diligence, form syndicates and lead investments, and promote the success of management teams. We are pleased to formally recognize Benjamin's talent and accomplishments, and also his increasing leadership in guiding Broadview's delivery of its mission, with his promotion to Associate Director.

We look forward to continued partnership with Benjamin in this new role.

Best,

Daniel Gottlieb
